Part I: Introduction to the Handbook

The Music Education Handbook for the School of Music at the State University of New York at Fredonia lists official policies and requirements for all music education degrees conferred at this institution. The Bachelor's degree (MUSB) leads to New York's Initial Teaching Certification in Music. The Master's in Music – Music Education satisfies New York's education requirements for the Professional Certification in Music. In all cases, policies and requirements printed in this Handbook supersede any previously printed policy or requirement. If future modifications are necessary, they will be approved by the Professional Education Council and/or Music Education Committee. Such modifications will supersede information in the Handbook and will be distributed to all candidates and faculty via Fredonia email as an addendum to the information in the Handbook.

Fredonia's Music Education Area uses Google Groups to email you announcements and electronic applications you need to complete your degree. To ensure that you receive business email from the Music Education Area, click the Groups icon  that is available from the Google Suite applications you select from your Fredonia Mail screen, and look for "Music Education Certification Group" under "My Groups." If "Music Education Certification Group" is missing from your list of groups, email the Music Education Area Head (Levy@fredonia.edu) and ask to be added to the group.

Conceptual Framework

Fredonia's music educator preparation program is designed around a central idea that all children can learn. Candidates for certification to teach music (YOU) learn to be responsive educators who assess their instructional competence through reflection on student performance. To instill reflection and create responsive educators, all candidates must complete four field-based experiences called practica. A required education course is linked to each field-based experience to clearly connect theory and practice. Field-based experiences provide opportunities for you to Plan, Instruct, Reflect, and Respond with school children in classroom settings. In addition to field-based experiences, you take courses related to child and adolescent development, applications of psychology in the classroom, and pedagogical strategies. Liberal arts and discipline-specific content courses are required as well. This compilation of course work and experiences work together to strengthen your Four Pillars of Understanding -- Knowledge, Pedagogy, Diversity, and Professionalism -- which in turn support the process of effective planning, instructing, reflecting, and responding.

What Fredonia's Music Educator Preparation Offers:

More Than Observations: All Fredonia candidates begin TEACHING in their first field-based course. Candidates plan lessons, teach these lessons, gather pupil data, reflect on the outcomes of their instruction, and respond to data planning subsequent lessons.

Work With Diverse Learners: All candidates have experiences working in high-need school districts with children who are from poverty and children who are speakers of languages other than English.

Student Teaching Options: Each candidate successfully completes a full semester of student teaching. School placements are available in Chautauqua and Erie counties, as well as in Rochester, New York, the Hudson Valley, Long Island, and New York City.

Professionalism: Fredonia candidates are actively involved with professional organizations such as National Association for Music Education (NAfME), American Choral Directors Association (ACDA), and American String Teachers Association (ASTA).

Getting that First Job: Candidates receive extensive training in portfolio development, resume building and interview strategies.

The Conceptual Framework is the foundation for the Bachelor of Music in Music Education MusB. The curriculum of the Bachelor of Music in Music Education at Fredonia is based upon Professional Standards (see Appendix B) listed by four certifying organizations: Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP), National Association for Schools of Music (NASM), National Association for Music Education (NAfME), and the New York State Board of Regents.

Standards are statements of basic knowledge, understanding, and skills in music and music education that are necessary for success as a public-school Music Educator. Specifically, selected standards are addressed in each class and assessed by rubrics (i.e., an authentic assessment tool used to measure candidates' work and to get candidates to think about the criteria on which their work will be judged). Candidates must maintain a Music Education e-Portfolio in which they post one or more artifacts (e.g., papers, videos, projects) from each course will be required as demonstration that standards have been demonstrated and learned effectively (see Transition Points in Music Education Degrees, Appendix C).

Specific Concentrations in Music Education (see Part VIII) candidates (you) choose (i.e., General /Choral, Instrumental, etc.) require different knowledge, understanding, and skills (hence, different rubrics and artifacts). Candidates who can demonstrate the standards upon which a course is based will be excused from taking it. This allows each of you to meet degree and certification requirements more quickly, although additional credits may be needed to reach a total minimum of credit hours necessary for graduation. Initially you choose a specific concentration, however you may demonstrate additional standards from another concentration or change concentrations entirely (with permission of the Music Education Committee).

Standards are addressed in specific coursework:

- College Core Curriculum/Fredonia Foundations (Fredonia Foundations begins with students who first enroll in fall, 2018) (see Part V)
- Musicianship Core Requirements for Music Education (see Part VI)
- Music Education Core Requirements (see Part VII)
- Concentrations in Music Education (see part VIII)

Completing a course does not always mean that you have completed the related standards. In some instances, a separate assessment related to the course is required (e.g., secondary instruments, piano class, etc.). Your record of progress is generally reviewed at the end of each year (called a transition point—see Appendix C). For example, at the end of the sophomore and junior years and at the completion of student teaching, you will be specifically reviewed to qualify for:

- Admission to Professional Standing and Educator Preparation Program (see Part II)
- Admission to Student Teaching (includes Secondary Instrument Requirements) (see Part III)
- Completion of Student Teaching (see Part IV)

Appendices

Forms and related information concerning the following can be found in the Appendices:

- Conceptual Framework of Fredonia's Responsive Educator Program (Appendix A)
- Program Standards (Appendix B)
- Transition Points in Baccalaureate (MUSB) and Multi-Award (MUSB/MM) Music Education Degrees (Appendix C)
- Professional Dispositions (Appendix D)
- Sample Music Education Four-Year Plans (Appendix E)
- Master of Music in Music Education Programs, including the Multi-Award "Master's in Five" Bachelor's and Master's in Music – Music Education (Appendix F)

Part II: Admission to Professional Standing and to the Educator Preparation Program

Professional Standing is the recognition that you have successfully completed all requirements to enter educator preparation courses, which are MUED courses at the 300- and 400-level. Upon completion of 200-level Music and Music Education coursework, each candidate will submit an electronic application for Professional Standing. To ensure that you receive the Professional Standing Application and all other notices from the Music Education Area, click the Groups icon  that is available from the Google Suite applications you select from your Fredonia Mail screen, and look for “Music Education Certification Group” under “My Groups.” If “Music Education Certification Group” is missing in your groups, email the Music Education Area Head and ask to be added to the group. To earn Professional Standing, you must demonstrate the following:

- 3.0 overall GPA
- C minimum grade for MUED classes
- C- minimum grade for theory classes: MUS 121, 122, 221, 222, 123, 124, 223, 224
- D+ minimum grade for all other MUS classes
- MUED 150, 250, and 251 completed
- Two practica completed and all required forms filed with the Music Education Area
- Secondary Instruments:
 - General/Choral Concentration:
 - MUS 218 piano class completed (note that MUS 317 is prerequisite for MUED 391 and MUED 392 Choral Rehearsal Techniques courses)
 - MUED 204 (Voice class required for non-voice applied majors)
 - Instrumental Concentration:
 - Four playing classes completed with at least two proficiencies earned
 - MUS 218 piano class completed
 - MUS 113 voice class completed
- Conducting completed (MUS 231-232)
- In addition, all artifacts from the music education courses listed below must be available for anyone at Fredonia to view in your Music Education e-Portfolio.
 - MUED 150 - Introduction to Music Education
 - MUED 250 - Foundations of Music Education I
 - MUED 251 – Psychology and Sociology of Music Education

Anyone not meeting all standards or presenting all required artifacts will be denied acceptance into Professional Standing and will not be admitted into Music Education educator preparation program coursework. All 300-400 level Music Education courses have a prerequisite of Professional Standing. Music Education courses may be retaken only once.

Transfer students and others with special circumstances necessitating exceptions to these requirements must request special acceptance in writing to the Music Education Area Head.

Professional Standing Application Review and Decisions

The transcript, e-portfolio and practica audits required for applications must be completed after students' completed course grades are available and deadlines for practicum paperwork submission have passed. The following is an approximate schedule for review of Professional Standing Applications:

- June 15-30 review of spring applications
- July 15-30 review of summer applications
- January 5-20 review of fall applications

The Music Education Area Head notifies applicants for Professional Standing of their status (achievement or denial of full or provisional Professional Standing) via candidates' Fredonia email address. Applicants' academic advisors receive a copy of Professional Standing status email messages. Reasons for denial or provisional Professional Standing and steps the candidate must take to earn Professional Standing are included in the Professional Standing status emails. Candidates who fail to earn Professional Standing must re-apply for Professional Standing in the semester they complete the requirements.

Candidates who feel that the Music Education Committee's decision to deny Professional Standing is incorrect have the right to appeal. This appeal must be typed and sent to the Fredonia email address of the Music Education Area Head within 5 days of the date the denial of Professional Standing email is sent to the candidate. The appeal must outline the reasons why the student feels the denial decision was incorrect and supply any relevant documentation (e.g. practicum reports, proficiency records) in support of a decision change.

The Music Education Area Head will submit the candidate's letter of appeal and materials to the members of Music Education Committee for review. The Music Education Committee's ruling on the appeal will be sent to the candidate's SUNY Fredonia email address within 5 days of the date the appeal is received.

If the candidate's appeal is denied by the Music Education Committee and the candidate is still unsatisfied, the candidate may take his or her case to the Director of the School of Music.

Part III: Admission to Student Teaching

Admission to Student Teaching requires that candidates complete the following standards (A--Q) including presentation of all artifacts that are designated as necessary for success in student teaching. Documentation of successful completion of these standards will require submission of the electronic Student Teaching Application the year before you plan to student teach (on or about February 1) and will be used to determine your Admission to Student Teaching and assignment of a teaching placement. To ensure that you receive the Student Teaching

Application and all other notices from the Music Education Area, click the Groups icon  , one of the Google Suite applications you select from your Fredonia Mail screen, and look for “Music Education Certification Group” under “My Groups.” If “Music Education Certification Group” is not listed in your groups, email the Music Education Area Head and ask to be added to the group.

Part V: General Education – Fredonia Foundations

The Foundation for Lifelong Learning

Fredonia Foundations is Fredonia's general education curriculum. It facilitates students' acquisition of the knowledge and skills required to be creative, responsible, and engaged global citizens. At Fredonia, general education integrates interdisciplinary skills, competencies, experiences, and perspectives that foster critical thought and form the foundation for lifelong learning.

General Education

Our general education curriculum is rooted in classical liberal arts traditions. These transferable skills and knowledge empower all individuals to face a complex, diverse, and ever-changing world. General education provides exposure to multiple disciplines and competencies that enhance and extend in-depth major and minor curricula. General education majors, minors, together with co-curricular activities, help students develop intellectual and practical abilities for civic engagement (AAC&U).

Part IX-A: Elective Coursework by Advisement

Your concentration lists the minimal number of credits you are required to choose so that your program will equal 122-126.5 credit hours, depending on area of concentration. You may, of course, take more. Since these are intended to “round out” your preparation in a variety of areas not otherwise addressed by your core program or concentration, it is probably a good idea to consider taking more than are required.

If your academic record is very strong, and you are confident that music teaching is your best career choice, consider enrolling in the Music Education Multi-Award Degree Program in which you can earn your Bachelor’s and Master’s Degrees in Music Education in as few as five years and one summer. This program becomes available after you achieve Professional Standing, and it enables you to begin taking graduate courses while you are still an undergraduate student. Contact the Music Education Area Head for more information!

The following list of suggested courses is provided to enable you to plan your program intelligently. It is not exhaustive, and some of the courses listed may not be available every semester.

Electives Applicable Regardless of Concentration

- Secondary Instrument Classes in addition to those required
- MUED 301, 302, 304, 305 Methods course(s) in addition to those required

- MUED 450-451 Directed Study in music education (1 to 3 cr.)*
- Advanced Conducting courses
- Community Music courses
- MUS 137, 138, 139, 140 English, Italian, German, French Diction
- Upper level courses in Theory, Analysis, History, Literature
- Composition, Electronic Music

- MUS 401 Orchestration

No more than 3 credits of Electives by Advisement may be fulfilled by Directed Study*

Part IX-B: Planning Ahead: Challenges and Choices

You are required to take only 6 semesters of applied music study, but you may take 7 semesters. You must complete a satisfactory graduation recital within that time. However, you should try to complete the recital in the Spring of your junior year (MUS 326) for the following reasons:

- You have the opportunity to study another instrument, subject to space available in the playing class of your preference. This can greatly add to your competence for teaching and to your credentials.
- You can take additional courses such as composition, upper level theory or history, music technology, etc. to improve your general musicianship.

You must complete four (4) Practica before student teaching, two (2) before Professional Standing. However, there are several potential difficulties:

- With ensemble tours using vacation time as well as time between and after semesters, it can be difficult to schedule your practica. Plan ahead. You may need to complete one during a semester or double up (e.g., it is possible to complete two weeks of practicum in May/June after spring semester ends).
- Your foundations courses, methods courses, and conducting courses will be much more relevant if you complete practica each year instead of waiting to do them just before the deadline.

Double Majors

Consider the following:

- You must officially declare Music Education as your primary degree. The State requires that Music Education be listed as your “primary degree” in order to receive certification.
- When you graduate, your diploma will show only the “primary” degree. Your transcript will show the other degree, but the official diploma you put on the wall will not show two degrees.
- Most graduate schools are not interested in your degree labels or whether you have two or more. They are interested in your musical and scholastic competence and potential as indicated in your transcript and audition.
- If you are getting financial aid, you must check with the Financial Aid Office about the impact of declaring a second major. Additional time beyond eight semesters or the awarding of the “primary” degree may affect financial aid.
- One of the interesting things about the music education major is that you frequently can, if you use your choices appropriately, get virtually all the same courses, performance opportunities, etc., without formally declaring a second major. This may be the preferred way to go if you would otherwise lose financial aid, or if the doubling of credits for the applied lesson will regularly put you over the allowed number of credits per semester. The completion of any double major usually takes 9 to 10 semesters.

Certain required courses are offered only in the Fall semester or only in the Spring Semester. The following are potential problems:

- If you graduate in December you will not be around the following Spring semester to take certain courses that are only offered in the Spring. Make sure you find out which these are and plan to meet these requirements before you student teach.

- If you have a double major, check with your advisor for the specific courses that are required in the other major that are offered only one semester of the school year. Be sure to include these in your program appropriately.

Earning Bachelor's and Master's Degrees in One Program: The Music Education Multi-Award MusB/MM

New York state requires all teachers with Initial Certification to earn a Master's degree within five years in order to qualify for the next level of certification, which is Professional Certification. The Music Education MusB/MM program enables you to earn two separate degrees at Fredonia, the Bachelor of Music - Music Education and the Master of Music - Music Education, within as few as five years. Combined, these two music education degrees fulfill the academic requirements for New York Initial and Professional Certificates in Music Education. Candidates for this program attain admission to the Music Education Bachelor of Music degree program. Upon successful admission to Professional Standing and prior to beginning the student teaching semester, candidates in good standing may apply for the Music Education MusB/MM Program. Undergraduates accepted in the Music Education MusB/MM Program may begin graduate work during the senior year and complete the remaining requirements for the Master's degree in as few as two semesters and one summer. Fredonia's Music Education Master's degrees offer you the option of completing a Recital track that includes private lessons and a graduate music education recital (audition required), a Final Project/Thesis track that includes courses in research and completion of a research-based final project, or an In-Service track designed to broaden your teaching range with a number of elective course options in music, education, and music education. You can see the course lists for these tracks in Appendix F. Contact the Music Education Area Head for application information.

Activities During Student Teaching

Due to the importance of student teaching and the time involved in additional school rehearsals, field trips, contests, and concerts, student teachers:

- May not participate in any college courses or in any School of Music sponsored extracurricular activities
- May not perform recitals, opera roles, or concerto
- Are urged to avoid other regular obligations, such as jobs or other professional work.

Music Education adheres to University policies concerning academic integrity (plagiarism, cheating, etc.) found in the Fredonia Catalog: Undergraduate and Graduate Programs (<http://fredonia.smartcatalogiq.com/en/2018-2019/Catalog>). Anyone who is suspected of academic dishonesty will be reported to the Academic Affairs committee; if the Committee finds that the charges are supported, then the candidate will fail the course and may be suspended from the Music Education program.

Part X: Practica

What Are Practica?

New York State requires that all candidates for Initial Certification in Music Education have experience in school music classrooms prior to student teaching. To meet this requirement, candidates in Music Education at Fredonia are required to spend at least 40 clock hours each of 4 placements (for a total of 160 hours) functioning as a music teacher's aide. These pre-student teaching experiences are called practica.

Each of your Foundations courses has an accompanying practicum (singular of practica) that is devoted to specific grade levels related to that course (although the actual experiences can be completed in any order).

- MUED 250 Foundations I-MUED 255-Practicum in Elementary General Music
- MUED 251 Psychology and Sociology of Music Education II-MUED 256-Practicum in Middle School Music
- MUED 300 Foundations III-MUED 355-Practicum in High School Music

You are also required to complete an additional practicum at a grade level of your choice before student teaching:

- MUED 356-Practicum in music at a grade level of your choice.
 - One of these four practica must be in a high-needs school as defined and listed by New York State (see OnCourse MUED Practicum Site for a partial list of high-needs schools).
 - One of these four practica must be completed in elementary general music setting to ensure that you observe all or nearly all of the children enrolled in a school in their music classes, and to ensure that you complete New York state's requirement of at least 15 observation hours in settings with students with disabilities and with English language learners.

Before you can begin setting up your practica, you must be fingerprinted and have a criminal background check, and you must establish a New York State Education Department TEACH online account to set up the state's file of your teaching credentials.

TEACH Account: Go to www.highered.nysed.gov/tcert/teach. Use a permanent home address and email address. Be sure to record your username and password and keep in a safe place for future reference. *Be sure all information in your TEACH account matches the information used for your certification exams EXACTLY. (ex. If your TEACH account includes your middle initial, you should use your middle initial for everything else)

Username: _____ Password: _____

Fingerprinting: Use the information provided by Fredonia's College of Education, Office of Student Services on all teacher certification matters (<http://home.fredonia.edu/coe/student-services>). The only vendor able to process digital fingerprinting for New York state is MorphoTrust. MorphoTrust has a website that provides more information on the fingerprinting process: www.identogo.com. You must use the identogo website to register for prints. The location nearest campus where you can get fingerprinted is at Box Mania in the TJ Maxx Plaza, 3972 Vineyard Drive, Dunkirk, NY 14048.

Approximately one week after you are fingerprinted, your fingerprint information will be viewable in the TEACH account you set up online. You then need to follow these steps to provide proof of fingerprinting to Fredonia's Office of Field Experiences so that you can be cleared to complete practica in New York schools.

- Login to your TEACH account with your user name and password
- Click on the Teach Online Services Box
- Enter your email address and hit confirm
- Then click on Account Information
- Then Click on fingerprinting
- Hit GO on the Right
- Then scroll down to see " Your DCJS & FBI results have been received" (in black, bold small print)
- Take a Print Screen of that statement and save it as Last Name, First Name - Proof of Fingerprint
- Then send that document to ludemann@fredonia.edu (Ms. Brenda Ludemann, Office of Field Experiences, College of Education, Fredonia State University of New York).

Now you are ready to set up your first practicum experience! Begin by choosing a school where you would like to complete one of your practica. Typically, Music Education students choose a school close to home, which enables them to live at home and complete practica in January or May/June. Contact the local music teacher or the administration office of the school district and request permission to observe in their school. Briefly describe your reasons for contacting them. Remember to explain that this is a pre-student teaching experience—if you use the word practicum, they may not understand.

If the school agrees to allow you to complete the practicum, give them the Practicum Packet. This packet can be found on the OnCourse MUED Practicum Site. Because of concerns for students' safety, some school districts require that you complete a phone interview and/or obtain additional direct email or school-specific forms completed by the Music Education Area Head. Many large school districts require that you apply through a central office, such as Human Resources so that they can monitor visits and limit the number of possible distractions to their teachers. These school-specific procedures add time to the process of scheduling a practicum, so begin the process of setting up a practicum several weeks before you hope to visit the school.

Fredonia's Practicum Packet includes:

- A letter to the teacher explaining the program and requesting permission for you to participate in the school
- Guidelines for the cooperating teacher
- Agreement form (print in ink or type your name and other pertinent information; include stamped and addressed envelope to Dr. Levy)
- Evaluation form (print in ink or type your name and other pertinent information; Give the school officials a stamped envelope addressed to Dr. Levy).
- Practicum Reflection Form

Although completing your practica at the school in which you graduated is convenient, it is highly advisable to schedule your High School practicum (as well as other practica) in a different district. This will allow you to broaden your experience. You may complete any practicum in more than one school building or district as long as the grade levels meet the requirements. To ensure that your practicum observations are sufficiently broad, you may complete only one (1) practicum experience (5 school days) with any one music teacher. This means that you must observe at least four (4) different music teachers to complete the four required practica.

After you have completed your practicum, complete the:

- Practicum Reflection Form

Submit all three of the required Practicum forms to Dr. Levy within ten days of completing each practicum. You can check your grades on the OnCourse MUED Practicum site to see the status of all submitted forms. Remember that you must complete two practica to earn Professional Standing and all four practica for Admission to Student Teaching. You must enroll in the appropriate course number of each Practicum with each co-requisite foundations/Psychology and Sociology of Music Education/methods class, but you may complete the practicum weeks in schools in any order.

Special Note: Professional conduct and dress are required while in the schools. If you are unclear about acceptable criteria for each, contact the cooperating teacher or administration offices and request guidance.

Appendix A

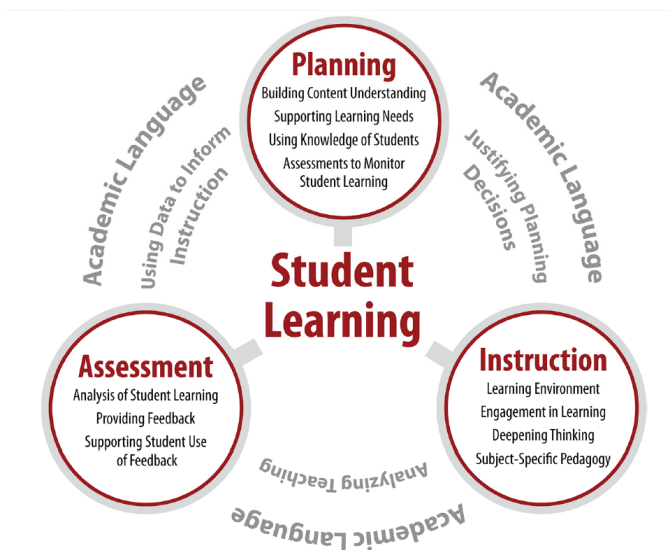

Conceptual Framework of Fredonia's Responsive Educator Program

The School of Music prepares music educators for the significant instructional challenges that await them. The general philosophy underlying the Responsive Educator Program is an organized, yet complex model, which correlates with the themes that characterize current educational reform movements. That is, we believe that all children can learn and make music, and that they can learn and make music best when taught by Music Educators who are responsive.

The process of responsive instruction comprised of planning, instructing, reflecting, and responding is a process that all effective professionals engage in when providing best teaching practice. This is supported by the Four Pillars of Understanding-Knowledge, Pedagogy, Diversity, and Professionalism. The foundation that supports the pillars is rooted in Trustworthy Educational Research, Contextual Influences Impacting Instructional Delivery and Standards for Teaching, Learning, and Professional Behavior.

The Cycle of Effective Teaching

The cycle of effective teaching involves three processes: planning, instruction, and assessment. Planning is your intended teaching, instruction is your enacted teaching, and assessment reveals the impact of your teaching on student learning.

Effective planning means selecting content, setting objectives, studying learner needs and backgrounds, and designing instructional strategies. Well organized instructing involves using diverse, proven teaching practices and linking theory with practice. Successful assessment provides information to be used as feedback to continually adjust teaching and learning activities in response to learner performance.

The supports for effective teaching are the Four Pillars of Understanding. These practices are the basis of the instruction. Each future educator is provided with the knowledge necessary for providing best teaching practice. This includes general and specific knowledge, the knowledge of human development and the learning process. Pedagogy is the method of instructional delivery. Candidates learn to use teacher-directed, peer-assisted, student-regulated, and technology-assisted methods of instructional delivery. Subject-specific teaching practices are also taught to educators. Comprehension of diversity is another important knowledge base for educators. Fredonia Music Education majors learn to accommodate students of all needs and backgrounds. Cultural and linguistic diversity, multicultural education, special needs and inclusion, and urban education are taught to all future Music Educators. Lastly, professionalism is a large part of the knowledge base provided for Music Education students. Professionalism incorporates life-long learning, professional development and advocacy through collaboration. Professionalism also includes ethical conduct, behavior, research and contribution to the field.

The foundation of the model refers to trustworthy research, contextual influences impacting instruction, and standards. A diverse foundation of knowledge combined with responsive instruction is the ideal conceptual framework for student learning and teaching.

Program Standards

Council for Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP). Fredonia's Music Education program is part of the College of Education-Professional Education Unit accredited through the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP). The CAEP Standards reflect the voice of the education field on what makes a quality teacher.

Standard 1: Content and pedagogical knowledge. The provider ensures that candidates develop a deep understanding of the critical concepts and principles of their discipline and, by completion, are able to use discipline specific practices flexibly to advance the learning of all students toward attainment of college- and career-readiness standards.

Standard 2: Clinical partnerships and practice. The provider ensures that effective partnerships and high-quality clinical practice are central to preparation so that candidates develop the knowledge, skills, and professional dispositions necessary to demonstrate positive impact on all P-12 students' learning and development.

Standard 3: Candidate quality, recruitment, and selectivity. The provider demonstrates that the quality of candidates is a continuing and purposeful part of its responsibility from recruitment, at admission, through the progression of courses and clinical experiences, and to decisions that completers are prepared to teach effectively and are recommended for certification. The provider demonstrates that development of candidate quality is the goal of educator preparation in all phases of the program. This process is ultimately determined by a program's meeting of Standard 4.

Standard 4: Program impact. The provider demonstrates the impact of its completers on P-12 student learning and development, classroom instruction, and schools, and the satisfaction of its completers with the relevance and effectiveness of their preparation.

Standard 5: Provider quality assurance and continuous improvement. The provider maintains a quality assurance system comprised of valid data from multiple measures, including evidence of candidates' and completers' positive impact on P-12 student learning and development. The provider supports continuous improvement that is sustained and evidence-based, and that evaluates the effectiveness of its completers. The provider uses the results of inquiry and data collection to establish priorities, enhance program elements and capacity, and test innovations to improve completers' impact on P-12 student learning and development.

Appendix F

Master of Music in Music Education (MM) Programs Leading to Professional Certification

The School of Music offers two tracks in the Master of Music - Music Education, the Final Project Program and the In-Service Program. Each track consists of core curriculum required for all Master of Music degrees and additional requirements as accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM). Whether you enter the Master's program as an undergraduate in the MUSB/MM Multi-Award Program or as a graduate student in the Master's in Music Education, you complete one of the three graduate programs included in this appendix.

Final Project Program

This 30-credit program leads to one of three Final Project options: Thesis/Final Project, Composition/Arrangement, or Performance Recital. Prior approval must be obtained from the performance faculty or Music Education committee for students wishing to exercise this option. (For the Performance Recital option, the applicant must audition for and be accepted by the appropriate applied music faculty at the time of application and not later than 6 to 12 credit hours into the program.) The program is designed to prepare a student for further graduate study and/or to refine a specific area of interest or competence.

In-Service Program

The 36-credit In-Service program provides a greater range of courses than the often more specialized concentration of the Final Project program. In recognition of the individual differences among teachers, their teaching positions, and thus of their particular needs, this program allows maximum flexibility with a broad, yet balanced selection of choices.

Appendix G

Master of Music in Music Education Studies

International students and U.S. students from states other than New York may apply for the Music Education Studies Master's degree, a state approved Master's degree without requisite New York state teaching certification. The School of Music offers two tracks in the Music Education Studies Master of Music: the Final Project Program and the Educational Expertise Program. Each track consists of core curriculum required for all Master of Music degrees and additional requirements as accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM).

Final Project Program

This 30-credit program leads to one of three Final Project options: Thesis/Final Project, Composition/Arrangement, or Performance Recital. Prior approval must be obtained from the performance faculty or Music Education committee for students wishing to exercise this option. (For the Performance Recital option, the applicant must audition for and be accepted by the appropriate applied music faculty at the time of application and not later than 6 to 12 credit hours into the program.) The program is designed to prepare a student for further graduate study and/or to refine a specific area of interest or competence.

Educational Expertise Program

The 36-credit Educational Expertise program provides a greater range of courses than the often more specialized concentration of the Final Project program. In recognition of the individual differences among teachers, their teaching positions, and thus of their particular needs, this program allows maximum flexibility with a broad, yet balanced selection of choices.
